

History

Husch has seen several generations of family over the years and now the fourth generation is running through the winery. At age 15 Morgan Joseph (Mojo) isn't quite a full-fledged winemaker, but he is a favorite with the tasting room staff and visitors. It is no surprise that the Mojo Red has developed a loyal following: high quality wine from a local producer at an affordable price is a growing rarity these days.

Winemaking

The Mojo Red is as much fun to make as it is to drink. With no fixed rules, we blend until it tastes just right! This year's release is comprised of the inkiest grapes La Ribera Vineyards has to offer. Designed to drink tonight, but also nice over the next few years with proper aging.

Tasting Notes

Dark, dense, and delicious, this wine invites your nose and mouth to the glass time and time again. No matter what the occasion Mojo Red is the perfect bottle to open. Enjoy with grilled steaks, pasta, pizza or your favorite burger.
